

future connexion. The committee believe the time is not distant when many of the members of this meeting will also become connected with us. From Clearfield the committee proceeded to Half Moon, where they found that much excitement had been produced on their account, previous to their arrival, and although at this small meeting but few persons attended, yet it became evident that the explanations and views offered by the committee obtained place in the minds of some, and evidence was fully furnished that there are amongst them, those who desire to be attached to the ancient society, and who we cannot doubt will more fully see the nature of their present entanglement, and we trust will yet be favoured to escape from their bondage.

10th month 29th, 1832.

The committee appointed to unite with men Friends in visiting the Yearly Meeting of Virginia produced the subjoined report, which was read, and they were continued.

To the Yearly Meeting now sitting:

The committee continued last year, to attend the late Yearly Meeting held in Virginia, report:

That part of their number attended that meeting, which was also attended by divers Friends under a similar appointment from the Yearly Meeting of North Carolina — and notwithstanding the many close trials and discouragements to which Friends there are subjected, especially by the removal of a number of their members, the meeting was held, and the business thereof transacted in much harmony and regularity, and to the satisfaction of those assembled.

On a solid conference on the subject, by a large committee of the meeting of men and women Friends, and those appointed by the neighbouring Yearly Meetings with several valuable Friends from a distance, it resulted in the conclusion, and with much unanimity, that it would be right to con-
