

cial manner, and a living concern was felt that the daughters might be willing to come under the restraining power of the gospel, thus would their example be such as becomes Godliness, by which they might be able to adorn the doctrines of Jesus Christ our Lord who has called us to be faithful in bearing the cross, and our testimony to the great truths of the Christian religion, also a sincere desire that the mothers would be concerned to instill into the tender minds of their children a love and reverence for the Holy Scriptures, to train them up in a religious life and conversation, endeavouring not only by precept, but by the persuasive language of example, to moderate their desires, and induce them to submit to that simplicity which the truth leads into, and which our profession demands.

The deficiencies acknowledged in the attendance of our religious meetings was felt to be a painful evidence of lukewarmness in regard to religious duty, and friends were exhorted to obey more faithfully the injunction of "neglect not the assembling of yourselves together," believing as this becomes our engagement, we shall be enabled to enter into the house of prayer and know the fulfilment of this promise, "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength."

We have felt the present to be a day of exercise and trial of faith, to those who are bound to the law and to the testimony. But if we are engaged to look steadily to Him who is mighty in power, we shall be preserved in the unity of the spirit and in the bond of peace. Then shall we be clothed with the mantle of charity and love, and know that He will yet bless Zion, and satisfy her poor with bread.

Then adjourned to 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

29th of the month and 2nd of the next, near the hour appointed friends met.

The following report from the united committee of men and women friends appointed to extend advice and assistance to the Quarterly meetings, was read and they accordingly released.

To the yearly meeting was sitting.

The committee continued last year to unite with
