

which she said - "She had had opportunities of going among other denominations, but since she had given her heart to God there were no meetings so enjoyable to her as those of Friends. She felt a rest & peace in them for which her heart sent up thankful praise. She also said she had made herself acquainted with our doctrines - had read the book of Discipline & fully agreed with the views contained therein. She was desirous of joining the Society - hoping she might be strengthened by their Christian fellowship.
